The trustees of Morrisville have decided to do this summer all the concrete work planned for this year and next, making about 11 miles in all of good walks in that village. The contractors are there and have offered a rebate of $100 if the village will have all the work done now. Inasmuch as the officials expect prices next year will be considerably above this year's, the contractors' offer was accepted.

At a special village meeting, held in Bellows Falls Tuesday evening, it was decided not to purchase the $2,000 fire engine which had been under consideration. A resolution was also adopted forbidding any department of the village government to borrow from the funds of another department, and this stopped at once extensive street work which was being done. No more will be done until the authorities learn just how much money the department has to spend between now and the end of the year. Another village meeting will be called, at which time special appropriations may be voted on.
